CALL FOR PROPOSALS

CAARP is seeking proposals for academic and lay research and/or policy presentations that relate to our Summit theme "Mentoring: The Power of Multilevel & Multidirectional Support and Information-Sharing Relationships." Given the significant divides in the nation and in our community between the haves/accomplished and the have-nots/neophytes, our vision with this theme is to build enduring associations, which foster a material exchange that boosts collective knowledge and generates many more productive Black leaders in all areas of life and society. Submissions should, therefore, link in some way with the broader mentoring theme, which encompasses such topics as:

authentic mentoring; career guidance; coaching; contract mentoring; counseling; cultural competency training for mentors; developmental mentoring; dysfunctional workplace mentoring; effective mentors/mentoring; e-mentoring; executive mentoring; extrinsic and intrinsic rewards; facilitated mentoring; feedback; finding a mentor; formal vs. informal mentoring; gender mentoring disparities; generativity; group mentoring; holistic mentoring/mentors; internal vs. external workplace mentoring; learning partnerships; life coaching; mentee, mentor, and mentoring characteristics; mentor benefits; mentor identity formation; mentor intimacy; mentor orientation and training; mentor recruitment, screening, selection, and matching; mentor support; mentoring advantages and disadvantages; mentoring best practices; mentoring and gender; mentoring and mental health; mentoring and race; mentoring and retention; mentoring for newly appointed staff; mentoring incentives; mentoring networks; mentoring outcomes; mentoring preparation/training; mentoring process (the); mentoring program evaluation; mentoring program goals and objectives; mentoring quality; mentoring relationship diversity; mentoring roles; mentor-protégé interactions; mentors and mentees; mentorship collaboration; mentorship involvement; mentorship loyalty; mentorship satisfaction; mentorship variation and social capital; monitoring mentorships; multiple mentors; negative mentoring experiences; one-on-one mentoring; paid vs. voluntary mentoring; peer mentoring; planned or structured mentoring vs. natural mentoring; psychosocial support; reciprocal mentoring; relationship quality; resource-based mentoring; reverse mentoring; role modeling; social capital aspect (the); social culture and the mentoring relationship; social media and mentoring; social mentoring; sponsorship; team mentoring; terminating mentoring relationships; traditional mentoring (the dyadic model); training-based mentoring; and youth mentoring programs.

PRESENTATION REQUIREMENTS & LOGISTICS

Research and/or policy presentations should either focus on a research topic, which may or may not be based on a completed paper or project, or critique policy related to the Summit theme. Presentations are 15-20 minutes in length with 10 to 15 minutes allotted for speaker presentation and 5 to 10 minutes reserved for questions.

- Proposal Submission Form

This includes the title of the presentation, author(s)/presenter(s), phone number, presentation category, and audiovisual requirements.

- Proposal Abstract

The abstract should be in Microsoft Word and must contain the title plus a 150-300 word presentation description.

- Submission forms and abstracts must be submitted electronically to Dr. Rikeshia L. Fry Brown, Associate Director for Publications, at publications@caarpweb.com by Wednesday, September 4, 2013. Abstracts will be peer-reviewed and accepted on a rolling and space available basis, and selected presenters will be eligible to submit papers for possible publication in one of CAARP's refereed journals.
